Summary: Ted and Blake's daughter is in need of some advice and she goes to Brian and Justin. Just a little funny moment that i imagined and thought would be a good first QaF fanfic.

In need of some advice

I (obviously) don't own queer as folk or its characters.

I hope you guys like my first QaF fanfic and please leave a comment. Just so you know, I chose Violetta as the name of Ted and Blake's daughter because this is the name of the main character of La Traviatta.

Justin was still working and living in New York, he and Brian seeing each other on holydays or when they had somedays off, they still had their own kind of relationship. But the thing is Justin was back in town for a couple of weeks and that's exactly why they're sitting at the Liberty Dinner having some coffee and pancakes for the blonde one since there's just no way Debbie would let him not eat ("he's already too danm skinny", she would add).

"Uncle Justin!" He barely had time to turn around before the owner of the voice hugged him "Hi Uncle Brian" the girl said giving him a smile while sitting in front of them.

Violetta was Ted and Blake's daughter and a little younger then J.R., having just started her second year of college. The girl grew up around whole group and they were all her family but no one could deny it was a surprise how close she and Brian became since she was a little kid. They knew how much he loved and cared about Gus and joked that the boy softened him, but the first time he volunteered to babysit her Emmet wouldn't stop laughing and Ted didn't really like the idea.

"Since when do you skip classes?" Brian asked looking at the clock, not on any lecture like tone, just surprised.

"Not a really important class." She shrugged "And I wanted to talk to you." They could say she was a little flustered but she still smiled at Debbie while the woman kissed her head and asked if she wanted to eat anything, as she went away Violetta resumed talking, but she was looking at the table this time, avoiding their eyes "I want to aks for some adviceâ€¦ about guys."

Brian didn't bother to hold his laughter "I can already imagine Theodore's face when he hears you came to us to ask about that" Justin had smirked looking from Brian to the embarrassed girl.

"C'mon Brian, don't be like that. Let the girl have a first love."

"Oh God! Don't say that, uncle Justin. That's exactly why I don't want my dads to know, they will be all happy about me having a crush, first love and whatever. It's not like that. I just want us to fuck."

"I feel so proud." The older one said on a thoughtful and impressed way, making the other man laugh "But what do you want to know then? Are you going to tell me you're a virgin?"

"No, but I've only took the first step with other girls. Never really had to come on to a guy and when I asked my friends about it they said a bunch of sexist bullshit about not doing it or he would feel like less of guy, so I decided I'd ask you."

Brian smiled and couldn't help but think it's finally time to pass on his knowledge to the next generation. Well to a girl but still.
